Justification / Uzasadnienie

The analysis of the implementation of the PhD student's Individual Research Plan (IPB) and the schedule of the doctoral dissertation preparation in time.
No significant negligence on the part of the PhD student was found.
The PhD student's academic achievements are good. Our achievements include both publications / conference presentations and practical experience.
In the presentation of the PhD student, he clearly presented the subject of the doctoral dissertation. Both research issues and their embeddedness in management and quality sciences were presented. The formulated research questions and the planned course of the research process were discussed in a good way. The doctoral student characterized the current status of work together with a satisfactory discussion of the deviations from the original research plan.
The conversation with the PhD student undertaken by the members of the committee allowed for deepening the opinions on the degree of advancement of work on the doctoral dissertation. In the scientific discussion, the doctoral student correctly referred to the issues raised and the problems of the research process implementation. The committee assessed the interview with the PhD student as unambiguously positive.
To sum up, it should be stated that, based on the achievements of the PhD student presented in the reports, the analysis of deviations from the planned course of the research process and the scientific discussion, that the degree of advancement of the work and its quality is at a good level.
