Justification / Uzasadnienie

The doctoral student conducted literature studies, formulated a scientific research problem and adopted a detailed research program. The work is carried out according to the schedule. The work brings scientific value and significant application value. The PhD student completed approx. 50% of the IRP, The PhD student is not active in publishing, he has not completed a scientific internship. The both tasks should be completed in the next. The course of research, processing of results and conclusions presented in the periodic report is exhaustive, logical and contains a sufficient and scientifically justified interpretation. The results of the research confirm the assumptions made at the beginning. The Commission does not see any threats to delays (except expected access to the Laboratory facilities) and correctness of the preparation of the doctoral dissertation.

The PhD student answered the questions of the Commission in a comprehensive and correct manner. Higher activity in publishing of results is strongly expected within next year. Internships related to realization of the doctoral dissertation should be organized and completed within next year. The supervisor help and cooperation in this will be highly recommended.
