Justification / Uzasadnienie

The doctoral student presented the scope of work undertaken as part of his doctoral dissertation, which defined the research topic and main research problems. He presented the methodology for solving the posed problem, which led to the individual stages of the research. He presented the results of research conducted to date, i.e., analyses in a computer-based environment. The committee determined the work to be sufficiently advanced. In the committee's opinion, the results so far indicate the doctoral student's significant commitment to research, which allows for the possibility of submitting the dissertation on time. The presentation of achievements was substantive, efficient, and fluid, with only a slight delay.

The committee asked the doctoral student questions regarding the presentation, the individual research plan (and the deviations declared in the mid-term report), and the formal aspects of the research. The doctoral student answered the questions in an acceptable manner, demonstrating his knowledge and commitment to the research. The committee considers the doctoral student's scientific achievements at this stage to be good – they noted the publications, presentations, and patents thematically related to the doctoral dissertation. The committee also identified certain aspects that needed improvement and consideration during the preparation of the doctoral dissertation. Considering the level of the doctoral student's presentation and discussion, as well as his achievements to date, the committee decided to grant a positive mid-term evaluation.
